Cumulative Gross Loss Per Origination Dollar (%)

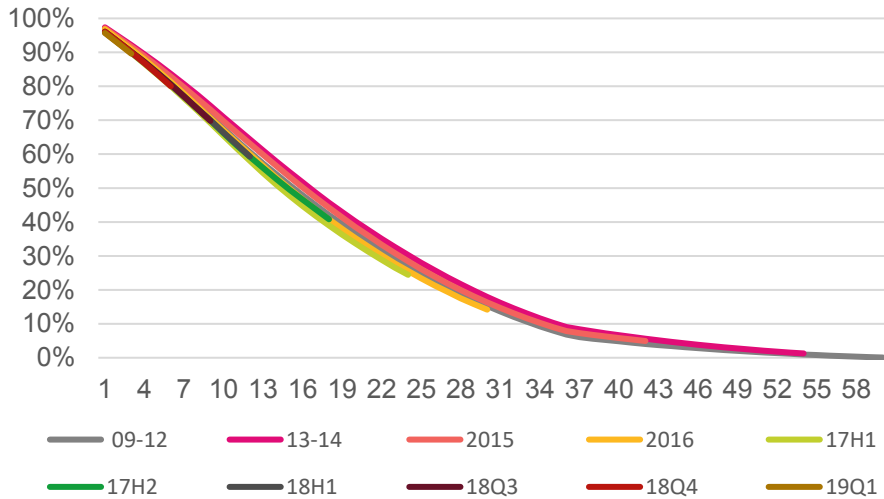

Cumulative Gross Loss Per Origination Dollar measures the cumulative principal charged off for a given vintage, divided by the total principal originated in that vintage. "Gross" refers to the fact that losses shown do not account for the post-chargeoff recovery effort that Prosper conducts on behalf of investors. Currently, investors are receiving 7-8% of chargeoff principal as a result of recovery operations. There can be no guarantee that these recovery rates will remain the same in the future.

Delinquency Per Origination Trend (%)

Delinquency Per Origination Trend measures the cumulative principal dollars for each vintage that are 16 or more days past due and that are not charged off in a given month after origination. We believe this measure is useful for discerning emerging delinquency trends and is a leading indicator for the Cumulative Gross Loss Per Origination Dollar measure.

Remaining Balance by Vintage (%)

Remaining Balance by Vintage measures the cumulative principal dollars remaining in a particular vintage that have not been charged off.

Cumulative Prepayments by Vintage (%)

Cumulative Prepayments by Vintage measures the cumulative principal dollars associated with accounts that have been prepaid in advance of their scheduled payment schedule. The cumulative prepayment rate is calculated by dividing the cumulative dollar amount prepaid by the total original loan amount funded.
